20 YEARS OF Country Fare

Twenty years ago, we started Country Fare armed with a passion for food and a determination to build a foodservice company to be proud of. Over the past two decades, we have seen huge growth and we are proud to have become one of the major foodservice suppliers for the south of England.

We are an independent, family-run fresh produce supplier based in Bournemouth, one of only a handful in Dorset and Hampshire. Despite our size, we demand good prices in the markets and we care about every single one of our customers, providing the best possible service 24/7.

FRESH THINKING

Our aim is to be both the supplier of choice and employer of choice. We are a team of fresh thinkers delivering quality products through excellent customer service. We do this through our five core values.

- we are passionate about food.
- we go above and beyond.
- we are honest and transparent.
- we have a can-do attitude.
- we value each other.

2004

The Country Fare adventure came from humble beginnings. Our original base was a small 2,550 sq ft warehouse in West Howe Bournemouth. Gavin ran the fresh produce side of the business and Debbie looked after the online florist.

Our motto is 'fresh thinking'. With this in mind, we supply the freshest produce and finest foods from our local area and around the globe. We are a company that strives to think outside the box and we love challenges that provide us with an opportunity to innovate and change. We see this as a chance to make us better! In fact, you could say fresh thinking is at our core.

Provenance is important to us and that's why our products are sourced and grown locally, where possible, with a great deal of care and attention. We work closely with the people behind the amazing products we offer and with our suppliers to make sure our customers only get the best.

2007

A few years later, we decided to close the florist and concentrate on fresh produce wholesale into hospitality and catering. By now, the team had grown to 35 people with eight vans.

POSITIVE IMPACT

In everything we do, we always have ethics at the front of our minds. We endeavour to have a positive impact on our local, and wider, community and the environment, such as helping the homeless by providing food to charities and supporting a scheme that helps vulnerable families. Our reach extends beyond the UK too.

2015

We joined the Landmark buying group, growing our offering to 2,000 SKU's across all categories.

2012

In 2012, the company rebranded as Country Fare Foodservice, and we increased our range to include frozen, ambient and dairy.

2009

A couple of years later, and we were already outgrowing our warehouse. We purchased Sunburst House and relocated into the 11,000 sq ft depot. It was hard to imagine we would ever fill it!

2016

A year later we launched Core Value and Fresh Thinking concepts, establishing a reputation in the area for excellent service and quality.

2017

Eight years after moving in, we were already outgrowing the space at Sunburst House. We added a 5,200 sq ft unit to our portfolio to support our growing frozen and ambient offering.

2019

Landmark merges with Today's buying group to create Unitas. Country Fare Foodservice remains loyal to the group and thrives.

2020

In order to increase our frozen capacity, we took on an additional 8,200 sq ft warehouse and grew our range to 4,000 SKU's. The team had grown to 90 people.

2022

Country Fare Foodservice emerged from the COVID years stronger, bigger and ready to take on more business. The team had grown to 110 with 28 vans.

2024

Country Fare Foodservice builds its own distribution centre offering 70,000 sq ft of storage and office space. Magna House will allow us to grow and develop our vision to be the Employer of Choice and the Supplier of Choice.

ALLERGENS

What you need to know

Food law requires that all UK food businesses provide essential allergy information on foods that contain any of the 14 known allergens. Businesses need to communicate these to customer to comply with Natasha's Law

GLUTEN

Gluten is the general name for the proteins found in wheat, rye, barley, oats and triticale, a cross between wheat and rye. Gluten is most often associated with wheat and wheat-containing foods that are abundant in our food supply.

CELERY

Those suffering from this allergy should avoid celery stalks, leaves, seeds, celery salt, salads, some meat products, soups and stock cubes. There is the possibility that they could be allergic to celeriac.

EGGS

Eggs are one of the most common allergy-causing foods for children. Egg allergy symptoms usually occur a few minutes to a few hours after eating eggs or foods containing eggs, such as mayonnaise, pasta, glazes, mousses, sauces, pastries, quiche and meat products.

SULPHUR DIOXIDE (SULPHITES)

The term 'sulphites' is a general term for a group of chemicals including sulphur dioxide and sodium or potassium metabisulphite. These are preservatives added to food and drinks to extend shelf life and can be found in dried fruit, meat products, soft drinks, tinned coconut milk, wine and beer.

FISH

The most popular varieties of fish eaten in the UK include cod, plaice, haddock, herring, trout, salmon and tuna. There are many other varieties and all are capable of triggering allergic reactions. Fish can also be found in fish sauces, salted dressings, stock cubes, Worcestershire sauce, relishes and pizzas.

SOYBEANS

Soya is a food derived from the soya bean, which is a legume, and is found in edamame beans, miso paste and textured soya protein/tofu. It can also be found in desserts, ice cream, meat products, sauces and vegetarian products.

TREE NUTS

Nut allergy is a hypersensitivity to dietary substances from tree nuts causing an overreaction of the immune system, which may lead to severe physical symptoms. This tends to be a lifelong allergy. Cashews, almonds, walnuts, hazelnuts, brazil nuts and pecans are examples of nuts that grow on trees.

SESAME

Sesame allergies are lesser known than peanut allergies, but the reactions can be just as serious. Sesame can be found in a number of food products, including bread, breadsticks, hummus, sesame oil and tahini paste.

COW'S MILK

Symptoms of cow's milk allergy occur within seconds or minutes of contact. In its most extreme form, this allergy can result in anaphylaxis. Cow's milk is also found in butter, cheese, cream, milk powders, yogurt, powdered soups, glazes and sauces.

MUSTARD

Recognised as quite rare in the UK, mustard allergy is still a known allergy for you to be aware of. Liquid mustard, mustard powder and mustard seeds fall into this category. Mustard can be found in curries, breads, marinades, meat products, salad dressings, sauces and soups.

All allergen information was correct at time of going to print and Country Fare cannot be responsible for any inaccuracies or omissions in the information. Country Fare recommends that the product label is read carefully before using the products*

CRUSTACEANS

Crustaceans are invertebrates, which means they have no backbone, and have soft, segmented bodies and jointed legs. People who react to one type of shellfish are likely to react to other types. There is also a high risk of cross-contamination among different types of shellfish via fish counters or fish markets. Shellfish includes crab, lobster, prawns and scampi. A key ingredient to look out for is shrimp paste.

MOLLUSCS

Like crustaceans, molluscs are invertebrates too. Many types have hard shells for protection and those that open and close are called bivalve molluscs. Molluscs include oysters, scallops, mussels, clams, snails, octopus and squid. They are often found in oyster sauce or as an ingredient in fish stews.

LUPIN

The lupin is well-known as a popular garden flower, but the seeds from some varieties are crushed to make lupin flour. This can be used in baked goods such as pastries, pies, pancakes, bread and pasta.

PEANUTS

Peanuts are part of the legume family and those with an allergy to peanuts increase the likelihood of an allergy to sesame and lupin. Peanut can be found in groundnut oil, peanut flour, satay sauce, curries and biscuits.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

- You can no longer state that all foods 'could' contain allergens.
- You can no longer state that you don't know if an allergen is present.
- Verbal statements have to be backed up in writing if requested.
- Allergen ingredient information must be recorded on product specification sheets.
- Allergen information must be kept up to date.
- Consider the impact if you change recipes regarding allergen information.

NATASHA'S LAW

Under Natasha's Law, you must list all the ingredients on individual packaging of products that are considered pre-packed for direct sale (PPDS).

Keep produce fresh for longer by checking where it prefers to be stored. As a general rule, citrus fruits will last longer when stored in a fridge, but as exotic fruit is grown in warmer temperatures, it prefers to be kept on the counter top to protect its flavour.

Know your...

Sliced meats

There are many different types of cured meats – each with its own unique flavour. Here’s a guide to help you use each ingredient to its full potential.

PANCETTA

Pancetta is a salt-cured pork belly meat. It’s also cured with black pepper, and spices and rolled into a cylinder. It is never smoked.

Try it... paired with Tuscan beans to create a delicious soup!

SALAMI

Salami is a cured sausage made from fermented and/or air-dried meat.

Try it... on pizza. A spring onion and salami sheet-pan pizza is a delicious way to use up leftover any spring onions you have lying around.

PEPPERONI

Pepperoni is a variety of spicy salami made from cured pork and beef seasoned with paprika and chilli peppers.

Try it... as part of a cheese board to elevate and enhance flavours, then wow with a basil garnish

CHORIZO

Most Spanish chorizos feature three common ingredients: pork, smoked paprika and garlic. The pork is coarsely chopped and mixed with bits of pork fat and seasoning.

Try it... in scrambled eggs for a spicy but tasty twist on a classic.

PROSCIUTTO

Prosciutto is unsmoked, dry-cured ham, thinly sliced. It’s a sweet, delicate ham which is perfect as part of a charcuterie spread.

Try it... paired with fruit, cheese, vegetables, bread, and preserves.

THE SPICY TABLE SAUCE MADE IN SHEFFIELD SINCE 1885

From home-cooked, family meals to Michelin star creations, our blend of tamarinds, cayenne peppers, vinegar, garlic and cloves adds a unique, spicy flavour to any dish.

Splash it on everything from poached eggs to shepherd's pie, or simply stir it into your favourite recipes. It's great for sauces, gravies, marinades and salad dressings. Even Bloody Mary cocktails too.

We're not simply an alternative to Worcestershire Sauce, Henderson's Relish is Sheffield's answer to it. So splash it on and find out what the locals have cherished for generations.

NEW HENDO'S A great-tasting, soya and potato popped snack. Perfect for a taste of Henderson's Relish on the go!

Know your...

Dried herbs & spices

Sprinkle authentic flavours from around the world with premium dried herbs and spices

DRIED ROSEMARY NEEDLES

Native to the Mediterranean region, rosemary is an aromatic evergreen shrub, and a type of sage.

Try it... in jelly to add an unusual zip to an otherwise sweet spread.

STAR ANISE

Star anise has a distinct liquorice-like flavour, and is commonly used in Asian cuisine.

Try it... in a curry or a noodle broth for a delightfully warming dish.

GARAM MASALA POWDER

A versatile Indian seasoning blend that will bring a rich depth of flavour to a wide variety of dishes.

Try it... in curries, stews, soups, marinades and so much more!

DRIED CHIVES

A member of the allium herb family, dried chives have an onion-like taste, ideal for many dishes

Try it... as a garnish for eggs benedict with smoked salmon

TURMERIC

With a pleasantly bitter taste, turmeric is a deep, colourful spice known for adding rich flavour, colour and nutrition to dishes.

Try it... in a creamy batch of mac and cheese. Always add a sprinkling of black pepper, to counterbalance turmeric's sharper notes.

Know your...

Iced desserts

A tasty dessert or the perfect way to cool down on a hot day, delight your customers' senses with an ever-growing choice of iced desserts

SORBET

Generally dairy-free, sorbet is made of just fruit and sugar. It's lighter than ice cream and often used as a palette cleanser.

Try it... garnished with fruit for a guaranteed way to impress your guests and enhance the flavours.

GELATO

Gelato uses more milk and less cream than ice cream and typically contains no egg yolks or eggs at all. It's also served less frozen than ice cream.

Try it... served with a spade instead of a scooper, as is how it is served traditionally in Italy.

ICE CREAM

A popular choice, your customers will be looking for a wider variety of flavours than ever before. Why not stock something that'll grab their attention, such as rocky road?

Try it... Why not create a DIY sundae station for customers, so they can add their own toppings?

FREE FROM

It's more important than ever to cater to all dietary requirements and serve a range of free from iced desserts.

Try it... garnished with fresh herbs, such as basil.
